Thomas Parity Price Proposal Conceded Lost

Administration Leaders Seek To Have Anti-Inflation
Bill Passed Today

SEEKING TO MEET
OCTOBER DEADLINE

Further Modification Of Parity Price Compromise
Sought By Farm
Leaders

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Leaders of the "big four" farm organizations today conceded defeat of the Thomas parity price amendment in the anti-inflation bill fight and sought further modification of the compromise amendment offered by Senate leaders.

Confident that they hold the whip hand, administration leaders planned to seek passage of the anti-inflation bill by night, so that it could be rushed through conference before the "you-do-or-I-will" Oct. 1 deadline set by President Roosevelt.

Substitute Likely

"It looks as if the substitute for the Thomas amendment will be adopted," said Albert S. Goss, master of the national range, one of the "big four" leaders in the fight over ceiling prices on farm products.

Goss said that leaders of the farm organizations had conferred with some senators on possibility of dropping the Thomas amendment, and revising the compromise.

Under the Thomas amendment, all farm labor costs would be included in parity prices. Under the Barkley compromise, the president would fix ceiling prices on farm products, with the direction that he should raise prices if the increase in farm labor costs would create "gross inequities" if he failed to do so.

Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) insisted, however, that the substitute would vote on his amendment. He conceded possibility of rejection.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, wears the fall costume she likes best, above. Conforming to new government regulations, it is a wool suit dress in soft Eleanor blue with a hat of the same material. Black shoes, black kid gloves, handbag and five-skin sable complete the ensemble.

Throng On Square For Army Appeal

Specialists For Three Branches Are Needed,
Speakers Declared

Noon-hour crowds swarmed to the Public Square today to hear three U. S. Army officers from Pittsburgh stress the urgency of getting more and more specialists for key branches of the army.

The speakers, Maj. Harman D. Denny, recent Pittsburgh mayorality candidate; Lieut. Patrick Mohardt, and Lieut. W. Kirk, emphasized in particular the necessity of winning experts for the Army Air Forces, the Army Signal Corps and the Army Ordnance Department.

In Front Of Post Office

Held in front of the post office, the rally was featured by the singing of lovely Alice Long, Pittsburgh radio songstress.

Recruiting of the specialists for the three army branches opened immediately after the outdoor exercises ended, and army men said they hoped to sign up a large number before the day ends.

Louis B. Round, Pennsylvania Power Co. executive, was master of the ceremony, and the band numbers which provided a fitting martial air were played by the senior high school band.

A group of army recruiters came from Pittsburgh to assist the local recruiting chief, Sergt. John T. Bilpuch, in enrolling volunteers.

One of the rally attractions was an army scout car brought from Pittsburgh.

'Fairly Certain' Rock Relieved Of His Command

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The usually authoritative British Press association said today it is now "fairly certain" that Nazi Field Marshal Feder Von Bock has been relieved of his command on the Stalingrad front.

Apart from reports placing Von Bock back in Berlin, "conclusive evidence" comes from a German war correspondent at Stalingrad who said in a dispatch:

"Col. Gen. Hoth now receives reports from his commanding generals in Russia."

The inference, the Press association said, is that Hoth has replaced Von Bock.

Odds Are Against Opening Of Second Front This Year

By KINGSBURY SMITH

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The odds today remain against the opening of a major second front in western Europe this year despite the intensified Russian pressure for such a move.

Such is the view which prevailed generally in United Nations diplomatic circles in Washington in the wake of Wendell Willkie's Moscow statement urging the United States and Great Britain to act now.

Willkie's enthusiasm for an immediate Anglo-American attempt to invade the western European continent on a large scale is considered understandable in view of the effect which personal contact with the Soviet leaders and the Russian fighting men at the front had on his impressionable nature.

However, responsible diplomatic sources in Washington doubt that Willkie's action in championing the Soviet demands for a second front will induce the Anglo-American military leaders to change their present plans of strategy.

Taft Will Seek Manpower Czar

Senator From Ohio Says He Will Introduce Resolution For Action

By ELLIOTT HAYES

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, today announced that he will introduce a bill this week to provide appointment of a manpower czar to allocate the nation's men to combat, industrial and agricultural armies.

Taft's announcement came as the five-man sub-committee which the Truman Senate committee on national defense set up to study the whole manpower question opened hearings by calling National Draft Director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

"The present situation, particularly that phase of it that threatens food production because of farm labor shortage, calls for immediate action," said Taft, one of the first Senate members to call for revision of selective service laws.

"I do not want to see forced labor in this country, which there would be under some of the bills now pending. The question is whether selective service or the manpower commission should have complete control. I am inclined to favor giving of control to selective service, with the new manpower czar ranking higher than the head of either selective service or the manpower commission."

Taft said that the principal problem is to work out labor provisions in a way that will avoid forced labor, but yet indicate clearly that a worker must fulfill his obligations of service in time of war.

Asks Report On
Rubber Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Sen. Willis (R) Ind., today introduced in the Senate a resolution demanding that Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers report to Congress every 30 days on the nation's synthetic rubber production and size of rubber stockpiles.

With the report, Willis' resolution would have submitted to Congress a survey of the number, capacity, cost and raw material demands of all plants producing synthetic rubber.

He also included a proviso requiring a statement of condition on all plants under construction and not yet begun, together with estimated capacity and cost and use of anticipated use of raw materials.

Churchill Praises
U. S. Shipbuilding

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today was on record with a tribute to America's Merchant Marine and shipbuilders for their role in winning the war.

In a message read by John G. Winant, U. S. Ambassador to Britain during a broadcast from London, Churchill called the American shipbuilding program one of the United Nations' most remarkable examples "of courage, resourcefulness and industry."

Churchill said the completion of nearly 500 vessels within the last 12 months "is an achievement far beyond even the most optimistic hopes and expectations."

Russians Warn
Of Coming Raids

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Following reconnaissance flights during which leaflets warning of coming attacks were dropped, Russian long-range bombers recently raided Bratislava, Zilina, Trnava, Trencianske and Teplice, the Reuter News Agency reported today in a dispatch from the German frontier.

The Slovak residents of the area "enthusiastically waved to the Russian airmen," the dispatch said, adding that local authorities immediately ordered rigorous measures to prevent repetition of similar demonstrations.

The leaflets called on the population to revolt against the Germans.

Missing Tennis

U. S. Bombers Blast Japs On Burma Road

CHUNGKING, Sept. 28.—Squadrons of American bombing and fighter planes yesterday conducted a series of attacks against Japanese positions along the Burma road, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

United States airmen have destroyed an estimated total of 30 Jap trucks in recent assaults against Japanese columns in Yunnan province, China, adjacent to Burma.

The American pilots made three bombing and two strafing attacks against Japanese columns in the vicinity of Lungling, inflicting heavy casualties, the communique said.

It was revealed that the Japanese in western Yunnan province had resumed their advance toward the Salween river.

U. S. Flying Fortresses Strike Heavy Blows At Jap New Guinea Routes

By LEE VAN ATTA

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 28.—American Flying Fortresses today recorded another sledge-hammer blow against Japanese supply routes toward New Guinea, probably sinking a 15,000-ton enemy cargo ship at Rabaul and inflicting widespread destruction in other sectors of the battle arena.

In the second successive raid on Rabaul in as many nights, the giant B-17 bombers scored a direct hit and a near miss on the giant Jap freighter, and attacked other shipping in the enemy base on New Britain island.

Epworth Pastor Assails
Liquor Condition In City

Epworth Methodist church was filled to capacity and many were unable to gain admission on Sunday night at the mass meeting when Rev. William A. Thornton, pastor of the church, preached a sermon on "Hitler's Greatest Ally in America." The sermon was built around conditions existing today in the liquor business in New Castle and conditions nationally.

Speaking of local conditions Rev. Thornton said that officers of the local police force told him that one section of the city was the "filthiest, loudest imaginable today." He added conditions which he said existed in liquor dispensing establishments in the area.

Officials Know Conditions

The officials of the city know the conditions, Rev. Thornton said. He stated he had invited Mayor Charles B. Mayne to the service but the mayor said it would be a record if he attended church. "Mayor Mayne said he knew more about conditions than I did," said Rev. Thornton.

Rev. Thornton said he had talked to District Attorney L. K. Donald (Continued On Page Two)

MOSCOW, Sept. 28.—The Germans today thrust two reinforced parallel columns into the battle for Stalingrad in a desperate effort to crush the formidable Soviet counter-offensive northwest of the city and split the defending armies into several parts.

German armored units, supported by fresh shock troops, were rushed into the fray aboard huge junker transport planes.

The titanic struggle for the city continued to see-saw with the Germans scoring slight advances on some sectors while the Russians gained new positions on others.

Hear Vichy Government Is Uneasy

Laval In Series Of Conferences

Defense Of North Africa And Dakar Evidently Cause Of Discussions

LAVAL REMOVES STATE SECRETARY

(International News Service) LONDON, Sept. 28. — Dispatches reaching London today from the French frontier report that the Vichy government has been thrown in a state of more than usual uneasiness by a series of week-end political and military talks between Chief of Government Pierre Laval and other French officials.

At the outset of the political activity Laval ousted Jacques Benoist-Mechin as his secretary of state. His removal and the appointment of General de Gaulle as secretary of state handling dealings with Germany were announced in the official journal.

Long Conferences During the past 48 hours, the Daily Mail said, Laval had lengthy consultations with Admiral Jean François Darlan, chief of defense; Admiral Platon and the resident-general of Morocco, General Nogues. The conferences, it was said, undoubtedly concerned the defense of North Africa and Dakar. One report said that Gen. Maxime Weygand also had been called in to advise the Vichy council concerning the situation in Africa.

According to the Sunday dispatch Laval removed Benoist-Mechin for intrigues against him in talks with Nazi authorities in Paris. The state secretary was said to have been caught trying to interest the Germans in establishing a new cabinet. His plan, it was said, was to oust Laval as chief of state and form a triumvirate with himself, Jacques Doriot and Admiral Platon to head the government.

held. At the conclusion of the service the crowd marched back to the club where the American flag was raised while the Legion band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

The flag was raised by Boy Scouts Albert Duda and Frank Wroth, under the direction of Scoutmaster J. A. Turck.

In the hall, Rev. Pichuk acted as Master of ceremonies after being introduced by the club president Louis Augustyn. John Sniezek, general chairman of the committee on arrangements was introduced and thanked the various committees for their co-operation. Through the work of Mr. Sniezek and his committee the day was a huge success.

Stanley Kiehar a student of the Madonna school recited "Our Hero" and the boys and girls of the school sang "Pearl Harbor." Later, little Helen Watroska presented a recitation and the school children again sang.

Several Speakers Several short addresses were made, with Judge John G. Lamoree and Major Guy J. Wadlinger making the principal addresses. Both the addresses were timely, both were well done. Both paid homage to the 100 young men who have gone out to fight for the Stars and Stripes.

Others who spoke were Clarence Jarrett, commander of the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, Marine Sergeant John Dean, Army Sergeant John Bilpuch, Rev. Peter Jaworski a mission priest of Manitoba, Canada, who has been conducting special services at St. Philip and James church, and John B. Shaw. Others who merely acknowledged introductions were County Commissioners William R. Walton, George H. Bolinger and Joseph F. Travers, Sheriff Clyde D. Badger and Dr. C. F. McDowell, Rev. V. Stanciewicz, pastor of St. Philip and James, pronounced the benediction.

Following the meeting, a lunch was served by the women of the Pulaski club. The day closed with a dance in the hall Sunday night.

know it will face a food shortage unless the farmer gets a fair price to produce his products," said Thomas.

Thomas said he planned to offer an amendment to provide for appointment of food supply directors. Angered at charges of lobbying, President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation struck back at congressional critics.

"Talk about lobbying," he said. "We haven't done anything compared to the administration. The department of agriculture boys have been mighty busy. I've even heard they brought some national committee in to do it."

Meanwhile, M. W. Thatcher, legislative chairman of the national farm bureau federation which has disagreed with the agriculture "big four" on the parity issue, sent a telegram to every member of congress urging them to vote against the Thomas amendment.

Party lines were certain to be split in the vote with some usually staunch administration supporters standing by the "farm bloc" amendment.

"I'd like to vote with the President if I could," said Sen. McKellar (D. Tenn.). "But we take into consideration the equation of labor in establishing prices on all manufactured goods, and that is right. Then why, in establishing prices for farm products should we exclude from the equation the item of labor? It doesn't make sense to me."

Attacking Buna and Gona, the Flying Fortresses played havoc with enemy supply stores, barges and air-drome facilities, according to the communiqué.

The Buna attack was carried out at night, and results of the island foray were unobserved.

Allied fighter planes went out on three separate sorties over the Jap supply lines along the Kokoda trail. The airmen reported fires were set along the route, indicating that a number of storage quarters or conveniences were demolished.

Military observers interpreted the communiqué as further indication that the Allies are clinging to their hand-gained sky superiority and that, as a result, the Japanese invasion of New Guinea, has been forced to halt.

utes later, the Fortress fliers reported heavy black smoke billowing from the stern of their victim.

Largest At Rabaul An official spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters, supplementing the terse information contained in the communiqué, said that the 15,000-ton craft was the largest anchored in Rabaul and "probably sank" as a result of the attack. He also revealed that the raid was carried out by American Fortress bombers.

Escorted by fighter craft, other B-17's struck at Japanese bases located at Buna, on the northeast coast of New Guinea, and nearby Gona. Big Catalina flying boats executed still another aerial blow against Buna on Bougainville Island while fighter craft strafed and canonized Jap supply lines on the Kokoda trail which leads to the land battle front in the Owen Stanley mountains.

Ground Fighting Unchanged General MacArthur's communiqué revealed, in addition, that the status of ground fighting in the mountains remained unchanged generally, and that Japanese bomber planes had made another abortive effort to attack Darwin.

The Nipponese air raid, aimed at Darwin, failed to damage either military installations or civilian structures for all of the Jap bombs landed in the swamp and brush area near the city.

Attacking Buna and Gona, the Flying Fortresses played havoc with enemy supply stores, barges and air-drome facilities, according to the communiqué.

The Buna attack was carried out at night, and results of the island foray were unobserved.

Allied fighter planes went out on three separate sorties over the Jap supply lines along the Kokoda trail. The airmen reported fires were set along the route, indicating that a number of storage quarters or conveniences were demolished.

Military observers interpreted the communiqué as further indication that the Allies are clinging to their hand-gained sky superiority and that, as a result, the Japanese invasion of New Guinea, has been forced to halt.

In Memoriam In loving memory of our dear, beloved granddaughter and niece, Donna Jean Monico, who passed away two years ago today.

HUGE CROWD AT MASS MEETING

son and that on August 10, the district attorney had written a letter to the State Liquor Control Board complaining of the lack of enforcement here, by liquor board officers.

Rev. Thornton charged that one wholesale distributor here was the owner of several retail licensed places, which is prohibited by law.

National Conditions Speaking of national conditions Rev. Thornton said all the promises of the wetts before repeal had been broken and that the history of Prohibition might be repeated. "The country went dry" said he, "not because of the Prohibitionists, nor the Anti-Saloon League, nor the W. C. T. U., but because the wetts were dumb."

Concluding his sermon he said that unless conditions were improved that local option would be invoked. "We did it before and we can do it again" said he.

Upon the platform with Rev. Thornton were Rev. J. Calvin Rose of the Second United Presbyterian church, Rev. Homer B. Davis of Croton Methodist, Rev. Charles J. Burton of St. Andrews Episcopal, Rev. C. R. Thayer of Third United Presbyterian, Rev. Rose read the scripture lesson Rev. Davis offered the prayer and Rev. Thayer delivered the benediction.

In the audience were many wholesale and retail dealers, and city and county officials.

Some bedspread plants in north Georgia have switched their manufacturing facilities to the production of pup tents for the United States Army. Many dress factories are now making parachutes as well as cotton canvas covers for artillery, searchlights and munitions.

The Alaska game commission reports Alaska's fur trappers netted almost $1,960,000 in 1940 for the sale of 565,500 fur pelts shipped to the United States.

American tourist expenditures in Canada during 1941 are estimated at $4 million dollars, according to the Department of Commerce.

ODD ARE AGAINST OPENING OF SECOND FRONT THIS YEAR

ing to establish a major diversion front in western Europe this year would be warranted, especially since Britain would have to bear the brunt of such an attempt, and might, if the effort was unsuccessful, come out of it without any first class army left to defend the British Isles.

With Stalingrad still in Soviet hands, and with the military experts now forecasting less likelihood of a Japanese attack on Siberia this year, there is a growing belief that Russia will be able to hold out.

Therefore, London is said to prefer postponement of an all-out invasion attempt until next spring, when preparations for a grand offensive on the European continent will be more complete and American troops will be available to share the burden more equally with the British.

The diplomatic observers point out that, of course, the possibility always exists that new developments might cause the Anglo-American strategists to change their minds and decide on a quick invasion attempt. Should the Soviet counter-attack against the Germans on the Stalingrad front develop into a rout of Hitler's army, or should word be received of a serious crack in German morale in the near future, then the Allied high command might decide to risk a second front attempt without further delay.

However, it is considered more likely that ground action against the Germans in western Europe this year will be confined to intensified raids, with north Africa meanwhile a more logical theater for any big United Nations land offensive.

American tourist expenditures in Canada during 1941 are estimated at $4 million dollars, according to the Department of Commerce.

FAITH MEANS NOTHING!
Quite often funeral directors, throughout the country use PREPARED Ads, stating the amount of funerals that they have had, where the prices were so much for a certain number of them, and other prices for others. This means nothing to the buying public. The big question is "HOW MUCH DO THESE FUNERAL DIRECTORS GIVE THEIR PATRONS FOR THIS AMOUNT OF MONEY?" This is the thing that matters to the purchaser.

The average price of work done by different funeral directors depends a great deal on the class of people for whom they do work, and their financial standings. If they do a lower class of work, naturally they would have a greater number of lower priced funerals. For instance, I know of a funeral director who has anywhere from 400 to 450 funerals per year, and 90% of these funerals are not over $125.00. I know another funeral director who has from 600 to 650 funerals per year, and will not accept a funeral unless the family can spend $500.00 or over on it.

It is possible that one funeral director might be so situated that he could give a family a great deal more for the same money than another funeral director. This explanation is due the public.

follows: President, Buddy Silverman; vice president, Rebecca Morgan; treasurer, Mary Gibbons; secretary, Peggy Smith; assistant secretary and treasurer, Helen Gibbons.

A social period featured afterwards, with special guests including Mrs. Francis Hammond, Miss Mary Chiatullo and Rosemary Audia, who also participated in an impromptu piano recital, during the early part of the evening.

On this occasion, Miss Miss Dorothy Rudesill and John Francis Carlin were renamed as counselors for the ensuing year.

'26-'27 UNION HIGH ALUMNI MEET SATURDAY

Alumni of the '26-'27 class of Union high school were entertained Saturday evening in the home of Miss Elizabeth Wallace, Youngstown road, with John Turek, co-host.

Three tables of 500 were in play
during the evening.

Card prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. William Rech, Mrs. Grace
Hudson and Lee Whiting.

During the evening, the group decided to send boxes very soon to members of the class who are in the army and navy. A card of greeting to the group from one of its members, Seamon Second Class
Edward Carr, written on board ship, was read.

In serving refreshments later in the evening Mrs. William Roush of Cortland, O., sister of the hostess, aided.

Next meeting will be in one month at the home of Miss Emma Patton, observed, with activities to be conducted in the solarium of the institution.

Dean Peet Honored

Two parties were given over the week-end honoring Dean Peet, the occasions being held in celebration of his birthday anniversary. On Sunday evening Mrs. Peet entertained in their home at 221 Scott street, for 15 friends. The hours were spent most informally, and sharing were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lang of Cleveland, O., and Mr.
and Mrs. Albert Moss of Youngstown, O.

After the presentation of several handsome gifts to the honored one,
the hostess served an appetizing repast with Mrs. Ella Bender aiding.

On Saturday evening, Mr. Peet's mother-in-law, Mrs. C. E. Bell, of 114 West Madison avenue was hostess to 14 guests at her residence, when she, too, entertained at a similar event.

The time was spent leisurely, and in closing, the assemblage was served lunch.

The guest of honor was the recipient of appropriate gifts on this occasion, also.

ROBSON-FORRESTER EVENING CEREMONY

Miss Alice Robson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Robson,
7 1/2 East Wallace avenue, and Private Paul I. Forrester, stationed at Cochran Field, Macon, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Forrester of 436 Baker avenue, Clairton, Pa., were married at a ceremony performed Saturday evening, September 26, at the bride's home.

Rev. J. H. Boone officiated at an 8 o'clock ceremony before a fireplace banked with palms, ferns and flowers in the presence of 25 guests.

The bride wore a street-length dress of autumn-leaf brown with matching accessories. Her flowers were brown gladiolas and yellow roses.

Miss Jeanne Hoch, who wore purple velvet with a corsage of gardenias and pink roses, attended the bride. Kenneth D. Forrester of Clairton served the groom as best man.

Following a reception for the guests immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom left on a short wedding trip.

Private Forrester will return to duty soon with the army air corps at Cochran Field. Mrs. Forrester will continue to make her home in New Castle, where she is associated with the Strouss-Hirschberg company in the hosiery department.

JUNIOR HADASSAH PARTY AT LOVE HOME

Members of the Junior Hadassah organization, numbering upwards of 20, gathered last evening at the home of Reva Love on North Mercer street for a party.

Their advisor, Mrs. J. Kulkin, was present and gave a short talk, and the time that followed was spent most informally, with games and songs.

Chairman Babs Greenberg and her committee composed of Tillie and Jane Solomon, Geraldine Mulhauser, Beatrice Hirth and Sara Kohn served lunch as the closing feature.

Farewell Party

Honoring Joseph DeRobbio and Sam DeLillo, who have entered the service of the U. S. Army, a surprise farewell party was held recently at the home of the former's father-in-law, Steve Jasen, Terrace avenue.

Informal hours were spent and during the evening wrist watches were presented to the guests, the presentation being made by constable Tony Isabella of West Pittsburg.

Friends and relatives attended, and later a delicious buffet lunch was served. A patriotic cake was baked by Esther Barry.

Best wishes were extended to the guests for their future work.

Watchmen Installation

American Home Watchmen No. 45 will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in McGoun hall, at which time members will have installation of officers. Mrs. Beryl K. Sanborn of Carlton will be a special guest.

The occasion, for members only,
will be concluded with the serving of refreshments.

Honor Miss Street

In honor of Miss Roberta Street, who is leaving for Oberlin college this week, a spaghetti dinner was held at the home of Joan Simpson of Leasure avenue Saturday night.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DON'T TELL CHILD "SIT STILL"
"SIT STILL" sternly said the father of a child twenty months. The cowering child sat down in his little chair, and for about ten seconds scarcely moved. Then he squirmed started to get up, sat down again, but all at once dashed for a pencil on the floor.

The father turned his eyes toward the toddler but said nothing. Several minutes passed. In that time the lad had found an old piece of paper in the waste basket, scribbled on it, punched holes through it, peeked through it, left it on his chair, dropped the pencil, rocked a few moments, picked up his chair, placed it beside the table and climbed up into it to get a little cardboard box.

Then suddenly the father shouted at him, "Didn't I tell you to sit still?" Another little pause and the child was in full action again. The little lad was trying hard to be still, but he couldn't. He wasn't still a half minute.

Showing Authority
That father did not mean to be cruel to the child. He was trying to keep it quiet, for a guest, perhaps, and to demonstrate that he had high standards of behavior for his child; was giving it training in obedience. Back of it all was his unconscious urge, of course, to demonstrate authority. In its expression he was getting a good deal of subtle satisfaction.

It seemed never to have occurred to him that you can't wholly stop a child's activity. All anyone can do is redirect it. To stop a little child doing one thing means that he will turn at once to something else. He is a ceaseless actor.

By activity the child grows and learns, gets his basic education and acquires his personality.

Please remember this, my fellow parents. If you do, you won't say "no" to a child unless you can be sure he will turn to something he will enjoy, and which won't compel your interference. Have some toy or activity in mind, and available, and have ready the treasure or remark which will turn him to do that desirable activity, before you say "No" or "don't."

More Sense Needed
If we spent more thought on providing things for a little child to do, we rarely would have to say "No" or "Don't." And if we had more sense, we would not expect a little child to be still even half a minute. We would know he couldn't if he tried. Let us pray for more sense.

Quelling Parent Problems
Q. Can a child of three be taught to stay on an unfenced lot or lawn at play without being held or tied?

A. Yes; build around him an invisible fence by training him so that he must not go beyond clearly defined boundaries. Be on hand all ways when he is trained. See that he always gets instant punishment every time he crosses the boundary. Effective training should be accomplished in a week or so.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TRUE TO HIS BLOOD

Time was, centuries ago, when the death in war action of an Englishman of royal blood seemed a commonplace. In the days of Harold, of Richard Plantagenet, of Edward the Black Prince, the English king who did not don armor and lead his armies into battle was not likely to reign long nor live long. And when a king died, his successor established his right to rule by persuasion of his ability to wield a sword as often as by the logic of legal inheritance.

The war record and the death of the Duke of Kent, however, and the war record of the entire royal family of Great Britain exhibits courage in line of duty unsurpassed by the predecessors of troubled olden times. It is the part in war of modern English kings and princes to inspire national steadfastness by example rather than by action. George VI is not permitted to lead an army in person, but, in areas where bombs are falling, he and his brothers have shared the perils of the common man without flinching.

When the Duke of Kent's car was showered by debris from a bomb, and he stepped out, unshaken to reassure the neighborhood people with calm talk, he stood an equal with the shadowy company of the best among the doughty knights of old. And when the plane carried him to his death, it may be surmised that he met it as bravely as the professional fighting men who died with him.

"They also serve who only stand and wait."

FLORAL GARDEN
Along about the time of year old
The garden, like a person old,
Worn by the shocks of life severe,
Dreads the approaching cold.

Wrinkled and pale the roses seem,
Only the bravest blossoming out!
The zinnias in the sunlight dream
Of blither mornings long since gone.

Already having left their seed,
The gay petunias fade and die,
From pain and growth all things are freed
With winter swiftly drawing nigh.

Much as a person worn and gray,
And very tired and done with dreams,
Waiting God's final judgment day,
The late September garden seems.

Crime On Increase Because Of War
Vice Problem Rears Its Ugly Head
Hoover Cites Hitler As An Example

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Director J. Edgar Hoover of Uncle Sam's Federal Bureau of Investigation gave criminologists a valuable slant on the subject of law enforcement at the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in New York City recently.

The average policeman's theory is that the ideal method of preventing crime is to catch its perpetrators so soon after each perpetration that "direction" will refrain from yielding to it, realizing that they'll surely be caught and given the law's limit if they do. J. Edgar's proposition is that the correct system is to develop 'em in such a fashion that they never'll feel the criminal urge.

Some few undoubtedly will be born with it, he admits, and he agrees that these will have to be dealt with as soon as it manifests itself, but he questions the desirability of ever trusting 'em again. Illustratively, he mentions the case of Herr Hitler, who got into trouble with the Bavarian authorities in his comparative youth and subsequently was paroled, against the protest of his local police chief, who recognized him as an incurable. And now look at him!

J. Edgar's judgment, though, is that the average individual will remain civilized if he gets the right kind of start, and the place for that to be attended to is in his home.

Crime On Increase
Right now he concedes that crime's on the increase, presumably due to the war, and he predicts a perfect epidemic of it after the conflict, as there was after the last one.

It's understandable why war, in itself murderous, should encourage crimes of violence.

Furthermore, young chaps, of formative age, yanked from under home influences and mixed together indiscriminately, naturally can be expected to acquire certain bad habits while ranging around irresponsibly on their own.

There's a type of gal who is a temptation, too. Maybe the soldiery are a temptation to them, likewise. Perhaps they need protection as much as the boys do. It's a juncture at which the boys usually are referred to as the victims but it's likely there are two sides to it.

J. Edgar emphasized the urgent necessity of suppressing vicious "agencies."

It's all right, if vice can be suppressed. But can it be? The centralized agencies can be, yes. They can be denied licenses and raided if they operate independently. The difficulty is that, officially suppressed vice tends to scatter itself. As an old-time police reporter, I've heard this question discussed copiously.

The issue is: A segregated vice district is more convenient for a vice-seeker to head into than it is for him to go looking for it, hither and yon. Nevertheless, the more concentrated it is, (Continued On Page Five)

Looking At Life

—By Erich Brandeis

You've probably all heard of Jimmy Hare, 85-year-old news photographer and war correspondent, who has had more narrow escapes than any other fellow twice his size.

Well, Jimmy came home in 1907 from the Russo-Japanese war, which he had covered on a bicycle for a national magazine.

Soon after his return he received a package from the emperor of Japan. It contained a handsome gold medal, in recognition of his services, and a letter oozing with flowery language.

Jimmy kept the medal, but when the Japs pulled their pear Harbor, he kind of lost his liking for it.

Sir Walter Monckton, former minister of information for Great Britain, at a luncheon of the Overseas Press Club.

It was to be recast into another medal to be given to the first American to bomb the Imperial Palace in Tokyo.

There were speeches and applause and after the luncheon the gold medal was taken to a jeweler.

He looked at it, tested it and said: "This isn't gold. It's just brass with some gold plating—and a low-grade brass, at that."

And there, ladies and gentlemen, you have Japan in a nutshell—brass with a thin plating of gold.

Japan's "golden" friendship with America—brass.

All their bowing and scraping, their gifts to us, their assurances of eternal love and respect, their diplomats—gold-plated brass.

And now even the plating has worn off and only the brass is left! Yes, you may well be glad, Jimmy, that the medal turned out to be as phony as the Japs themselves.

A nation that stoops to cunning and deceit can't be as strong as it pretends to be.

What now seems the gold of power will soon show itself to be but the brass of pretense.

Too Big To Control?

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 28.—WHEN MR. Elmer Davis supported by the War Department, recently told a Congressional Committee that the attitude of James C. Petillo, arrogant boss of the musician's union, was damaging the morale of United States troops and threatening the existence of small radio stations vital to the war effort, the question was again raised as to whether in this country union labor leaders are beyond Government control.

THIS, OF course is an old question. Many citizens asked themselves that during the long months when, with the Government urging speed in war production, millions of priceless man days were lost through unjustified strikes. They asked it during such incidents as the one where two labor leaders deliberately scuttled the President's National Mediation Board because it rendered a decision not to their taste. They asked it when they found that, notwithstanding strong public sentiment favoring legislation to prohibit strikes during the war, the labor lobby was powerful enough to prevent Congress from acting.

THEY ASKED it when, more than a year ago, they found all the rubber-stamp Administration officials supporting the President by insistence that wage regulation was not essential to price control—a position which they have since reversed one hundred per cent. It was asked again when it was announced that the President would name a "labor czar" to stabilize wages, and then failed to do it. And since last April, when he declared that wages must be stabilized, and our standard of living lowered during the war, it has been asked every time his War Labor Board has sanctioned new wage demands and made new concessions.

BALBOA—Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, pronounces Canal Zone defenses excellent. "I cannot exaggerate my satisfaction over the complete cooperation of army and navy forces in this potential danger spot."

WASHINGTON—William M. Jeffers, rubber czar, announces national gasoline rationing and adds: "It will be impossible, of course, to get this program under way immediately. . . . I urge therefore that every citizen ration his own driving."

DETROIT—Joseph Martin, Republican national chairman, sounds the Republican keynote in Michigan: "If the people want to make certain of an adequate accounting of the war effort they can do so by electing more Republicans to be a stronger cooperative opposition. Uncovering, exposing and remedying mistakes and weaknesses are the business of cooperative opposition."

Senate Committee Will Start Investigation Of U. S. Manpower Question

By ELLIOTT HAYES

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Sen. Lister Hill, (D. Ala.) said today that the Senate military affairs committee will start investigation of the nation's pressing manpower question within a week or 10 days.

"We will have formal hearings just as soon as the war, navy and other departments submit their reports on manpower bills now pending before the committee," Hill said. "We will have the reports in that time."

He pointed out that there are four measures, all intended to create manpower pools from which men can be drawn for combat, industrial and agricultural armies. These include his own measure to revise the selection service system to put, as Hill expressed it, "all the square pegs in the square holes and the round pegs in the round holes, instead of mixing them up."

Other Measures

The others are:

1. A bill by Senator Chas. McNutt (D. S. D.) to draft 18 and 19-year-old youths for combat service.
2. A bill by Senator Claude Pepper, (D. Fla.) to create a committee of five senators to study the manpower question in co-operation with the manpower commission and to determine the number of men available for agricultural, industrial and combat service.
3. A "work or fight" bill introduced by Senator Warren Austin, (R. Vt.), giving local draft boards power to assign men to farm and other jobs and prohibit anyone changing his job except by waiver of his local board.

Hill said the committee intends to hear Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service system; Paul McNutt, head of the manpower commission; Robert R. Patterson, undersecretary of war; James R. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, and Admiral Emory S. Land, war shipping czar.

First Problem

"Our first problem will be to find out from these men precisely what their needs are and when their peak demands will come," Hill said. "We will then try to revise the selective service law to meet the needs. Outside of the tax bill and the wage and price control bill, there is no more important question before Congress."

Hill said, further, that the United States could not wage total war without proper use of total manpower, nor could it hope to wage war with crop production threatened.

Next year's food production, he said, would be seriously cut at a time when it is most needed unless farmers were given help.

Austin said his measure would make it obligatory for every male from 18 to 45 to serve in production work or go into the armed forces. Men from 45 to 65 would be given work for which they are best suited.

His bill could not be accurately described as a "draft labor" bill, Austin said, but it could be accurately termed a "manpower stabilization" bill or a "work or fight" bill.

"It applies as much to the armed forces as to labor," he said. "It also provides for careful selection, not just putting men any place."

He and Hill were positive in asserting that 18 and 19-year-old youths can no longer be left out of the war effort, but must be used wherever they are needed, particularly in production work.

the easier it is to keep an eye on. Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia of New York favors keeping such districts as far removed from encampments as possible.

Soldiers and Booze

That may be okay. Possibly, if they're unhandy to locate, the result will be to restrict their patronage. It won't necessarily follow, though, that this very restriction won't make the vicious elements more energetic than ever in its quest.

Fiorella also wants drinking dumps barred from the neighborhoods of military concentrations.

That harks back toward prohibition days.

The last war precipitated prohibition. We all know that. This war isn't so indicative of it. That dose appears to have been overly so, according to straw polls. Still, the notion perks up a bit.

Mayor La Guardia urges keeping saloons away from soldiers' camps. To surmise that a soldier who wants a drink will go get it—a bottle if necessary and keep the container under his bed, taking a pull on it now and then. It may keep him more boozed than an occasional swig over a bar.

To sum up—Vice in moderation seems to be human. If overly restricted, apparently it gets worse.

Evidently the problem's to keep it under control at the same time preventing virtue from going ridiculously rampant.

Woman Accused Of Stealing $13,000

New Jersey Suspect Picked Up By Detectives In Pittsburgh

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Accused of the theft of $13,000 from the home of Camden, N. J., retired businessman, Mary Korostynski, alias Mary Cunningham, 29, was to be turned over to New Jersey police today for removal to Camden. She waived extradition.

The woman was picked up by Pittsburgh detectives at the Pennsylvania station when she appeared there to get some luggage she had checked from Philadelphia. The detectives said none of the missing money was in the luggage.

John Bodie of 1239 South Sixth street, Camden, charged the woman and her mother, 52, who is still missing, had been staying at his home and disappeared along with the money.

Jap Bombs On Pearl Harbor Opened Piggy Banks And Pocketbooks

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Jap bombs that fell on Pearl Harbor blew wide open the pocketbooks and piggy banks of Mr. and Mrs. America—and children.

The first nine months of World War II, according to treasury compilations, has seen almost $2,500,000 in war donations pour into Washington from the young and old in every walk of life.

Typical of the letters accompanying the contributions of children was that of an eight-year-old boy who sent 20 cents to buy some bullets for Cowboy Actor Gene Autry. "He will get Hitler and the Japs," the youngster wrote. "He is the best friend I have."

A Japanese veteran of the American armies of the first World War sent two of his bonus bonds, worth $50 each, "in the hope that they may be included in the funds for the defense of Hawaii." No longer a resident of the United States, the donor sent his $100 contribution from Chile.

money to send a gift of six tons of virgin aluminum to the United States government. The aluminum was shipped to a factory in that country which had gone out of business, and the Latin American merchants, aware of the critical aluminum situation, banded together to make the gift possible.

A wealthy Canadian, working through his bank, sent the treasury a check for $416. The bank informed the treasury that the donor had instructed "us to mail you a similar check on the first day of each month until we receive instructions from him to the contrary." To date, the monthly remittances are still rolling in on time.

Flood Control Plan Postponed By War

Federal Government Halts Dam Projects At Pittsburgh And Other Flood Areas

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Completion of the Allegheny river flood control system to protect the Pittsburgh area today was placed on the postponed list until the end of the war.

Secretary of Forests and Waters G. Albert Stewart, who is also chairman of the water power and resources board, did not cite the reason for the postponement but merely stated the project "waits the end of the war."

The Conemaugh dam at Saltsburg will also not be finished as originally planned "due to the war effort," he added.

Jointly financed flood control projects at Wilkes-Barre, Kingston and Edwinstown are almost completed, he said, while the Plymouth project and the $6,000,000 program at Williamsport have been halted temporarily by the federal government due to the war.

Peter Dimco, of 897 Dushane street, sustained injuries of the right leg while at his work Saturday, when a plank on a scaffold on which he was working broke, and his leg went through the hole. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where examination revealed no bones had been broken.

LABORER INJURED

Robert Rowe of Bessemer was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital for injuries of the leg, the bone being broken at his work. The injured member was placed in a cast at the hospital, after which he was able to be removed to his home.

The Great Game Of Politics

IN BRIEF, this question, which troubled a great number of American citizens before the war, has become far more acute since the war. The political alliance between the Administration and the labor leaders, instead of being weakened, apparently has been strengthened. In any event, it was openly proclaimed when the Attorney General some months ago, speaking before a small group of radicals, urged the necessity of fighting on the political front as well as the war front and described the New Deal as "a political party allied with labor."

LOUDLY proclaiming their patriotism all the while, these labor leaders have brazenly used the war to grab for money and power. Far from resigning, the Administration has acquiesced and approved. The wage increases have gone far beyond the rise in the cost of living and great strides toward the labor politicians' ideal of the closed shop have been made through Administration boards. For more than a year this sort of thing has been going on. Now, the stage has been reached when the President, having again declared that wages must be stabilized, is about to be given legislative authority (which he says, he does not need) to stabilize them. And the labor leaders complacently accept the proposed stabilization, convinced that when the maneuvering is finally over, the result will be further advances in wages and further strengthening of the "maintenance-of-union" drive.

THE NET of all this is that at no time has either the legislative branch or the executive branch of the Government been nor willing—to discipline or control these labor leaders. On the contrary, with intimate personal White House relations, they have steadily pushed ahead their program. Not only are they established as the favored class but apparently they are entrenched. So when Mr. Davis makes his charge that in prohibiting new transactions and recording by musicians for use over the radio, Mr. Petrillo is lowering the morale of the troops and impeding the war effort, he brought up no new question. It is, of course, a serious charge but the only new thing about it is that this is the first time it has come from an Administration spokesman. Mr. Davis has shown courage in speaking frankly, and Senator Clark, of Idaho, has done well in presenting a resolution for investigation, passage of which is now assured.

BUT WHETHER corrective action will be had is doubtful. The stand Mr. Petrillo has taken is made possible by the strength which union leaders have acquired through Administration support and by decisions of the Supreme Court. When a man like Mr. Davis makes a grave charge as this, one would like to see him strongly supported by his White House Chief. Without that support, the chances are his charge will not get far, no corrective legislation will be enacted and Mr. Petrillo will have demonstrated that he is bigger than the Government. It is possible that public sentiment or private pressure may persuade him to make a generous gesture, but it seems unlikely, despite Mr. Thurman Arnold's legal offensive, that he is going to be forced. He may make a concession, but he is not likely to be, as he should be, slapped down and made to quit. It will be a shameful thing if, after the Davis charges and a Senate investigation, nothing happened of a disciplinary nature.

Old hope of better things: "When our ship comes in." Modern version: "When the election is over."

YOUNG PROGRESSIVES DANCE WELL ATTENDED

Highlighting the successful events on the social calendar for September was the annual semi-formal dance event, held by the Young Progressives juvenile organization Saturday evening at the New Castle Field club.

Quite a large crowd attended this festive occasion and during the evening the girls presented a colorful picture as they danced about the ballroom in their new formal. Dancing began at 9 o'clock with the music keeping in time with the spirit of the day, being provided by a popular local orchestra.

Chairman Frank Alfieri deserves much credit for the success of the dance, and also his co-chairman, Mrs. Eleanor Russell. Aides were Rosetta Cherby, Helen Villani, Albert Volpe, Joseph Cozza, Nick Gesue, Florence Cherby, Joseph Fava, Ann Bailey and Della Apech.

Chaperones present at the dance included Attorney Joseph Lett, Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Perifano and Dr. and Mrs. Frank A. Viggiano.

October 4 is the date for the next meeting.

Policeman Wounded By Masked Bandits

Two Men Hold Up Squirrel Hill Pharmacy, Both Captured Later

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Shot by one of the two masked bandits who had attempted to hold up the Squirrel Hill pharmacy in Squirrel Hill Saturday night, sub-Patrolman Cornelius K. Walker, 32, rested comfortably in the hospital today.

Both of the bandits were captured, one at the scene and the other an hour later in Schenley park. They were listed as Theodore J. Geisler and Mike Pagan, 27, resistance to police. Neither offered resistance at the showdown.

Walker and two other rookie cops, all in plainclothes, were in the pharmacy when the gunmen entered. They swung into action as soon as the bandits pulled their guns, but one shot Walker before he could get his trigger-finger working. Both grabbed customers as shields.

Geisler backed into a prescription room which had no other exit and subsequently surrendered. Pagan backed out the main door and fled amid a fusillade of bullets. He was caught in the Schenley park area about an hour later by two other regular patrolmen.

Walker's wound was described as painful but not serious. The two bandits were identified also as the two men who robbed a Streamline market on West Liberty avenue of $150 only two hours earlier.

White Delivers Steel Site Deed

Deed Is Turned Over To Defense Plant Corporation
On Saturday

When council convened this morning in city hall City Solicitor R. M. White announced delivery of a deed for the steel mill site to the Lawyers Title Company, Pittsburgh, counsel for the Defense Plant Corporation.

He stated the taxes which will be paid out of the $13,000 the city originally put up to buy the buildings and which will be returned to the city amounts to $4,134.49.

According to the original tax statement delivered to the city the city would have made more than this. However, Solicitor White investigated the bill and the taxes due were as follows:

County 1941 taxes $835.04 and school, $2,700.13; 1942 taxes, county, $599.32.

Due to heavier loading and longer haul, railroads in the first four months of 1942 transported nearly 40 per cent more freight, measured by ton-miles, than in the same period in 1941. The number of cars loaded with revenue freight, however, only increased about 11 per cent.

Showing Of Wake Island Film Will Climax Big Drive

Citizens Of County Have Responded Generously To Appeal

MANY PURCHASES
MADE SATURDAY

Showing of the film "Wake Island" this evening at the Penn Theater will climax the campaign undertaken this month by the theaters of the county to raise the county's quota of war bond purchases, and will result in two big audiences seeing this famous Paramount picture under the auspices of the local Marine Corps League post. Tickets have been sold out for several days to the first showing at 9:30 o'clock, but the window will be open for sale of bonds up until 11:30 o'clock this evening, which is the only way that folks can get to see this factual showing of the Marine's heroic defense of Wake Island last winter for the premiere here tonight.

Chairman Clarence M. England is more than pleased with the way local citizens have responded to the appeal to buy bonds, and predicts that quite a number will be sold yet today by folks who will want to attend the midnight show.

Mr. England spoke at the Diamond at noon today in connection with the post office steps, urging his hearers to support the men in the service by investing $3 for a $4 return.

Several features will take place as the program opens at the theater tonight, which will be of interest to the audience, it is stated. The first show starts at 9:30 o'clock.

Half Million Enjoy Hospital Protection Under Group Project

Co-operative Plan, Now Five Years Old, Has Helped 120,000

The non-profit group hospitalization plan in which the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals are participants, will mark its fifth year next week—with more than half a million men, women and children throughout western Pennsylvania protected against future hospital bills.

World War II has brought added importance to the co-operative plan, leaders said today, because it assures quick and competent hospital care for men and women playing important roles in the war effort.

Abraham Oseroff, vice president of the Hospital Service association, which operates the plan, said more than 120,000 persons have been hospitalized under the plan.

He emphasized its importance to the nation in future days.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

Alan Plant, instructor for the Fifth ward OCD class at the Lincoln-Garfield school today announced he will not have a class Wednesday. However, the class will convene October 7, to study war games.

War from the air and widespread bombing of civilians, brings with it the problem of extricating persons trapped in debris. They may be uninjured but suffer from nervous shock. Casualties are likely also to result. It is the duty of the Rescue squad to save them, the dead as well as the living when it can be done without further risk to life. Therefore the Rescue party of the OCD is concerned with first aid, incendiary bomb control, decontamination, urgent shoring and demolition and know what to do with utility service lines. According to OCD officials, in London, where the effect of raiding has tested the rescue squads they have had more severe trials than any other service excepting the fire department.

According to reports the majority of city OCD workers are looking forward to certifications increasing rapidly now. With talk of a second front being heard all over the world it is likely that the Axis will try in some way to demoralize the United States (which they cannot do) so additional men and women who know their duty, will prove a great blow against any Axis move. Some of the people have an idea that "OCD work is foolishness." They may be the very people who will give help if a raid ever comes.

Installation sales by 285 credit-granting furniture stores reporting to the Department of Commerce accounted for 71.2 percent of total sales during 1941.

"Don't Lose Head" If Lost In Woods

State Department Of Forests, Waters Issues Advice To Hunters

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—During the past summer forest rangers of the Department of Forests and Waters have occasionally been called upon to lead searching parties for persons who have temporarily been lost in the woods as a result of wandering from roads and marked trails. Getting lost in the woods of Pennsylvania is not as serious as in some of the extensive forest areas of the far West and Canada, but the experience is nevertheless uncomfortable.

Women and children are not the only persons whom the forest rangers are called upon to seek. Grown men frequently become bewildered while attempting to take short cuts in regions of the state where the topography is rugged. Darkness always complicates the situation and unless the lost person is experienced in woods lore, he usually spends the night out.

Secretary G. Albert Stewart of the Department of Forests and Waters, who has had many years of experience in the woods as a fisherman and hunter, suggests the following six rules for those who stray off the marked forest trails:

- 1—Sit down and rest. Try to find out where you are and study the topography of the land.
- 2—Don't wear yourself out trying to run through the undergrowth.
- 3—Don't walk aimlessly about. Travel only down hill. Follow a stream downwards, if possible. Streams usually lead to habitations.
- 4—Don't try to seek a way out during the night or in a storm or fog. Find a shelter place and make camp. Gather plenty of dry wood and make a fire in a safe place. Be careful not to set the woods on fire and extinguish your camp fire before leaving.
- 5—If you are injured, build a smoke signal fire, if possible, in an open spot on a knob or ridge top.
- 6—Don't lose your head and don't give up.

During the Pennsylvania hunting season, hunters occasionally get temporarily lost in the forests. Secretary Stewart recommends that hunters unfamiliar with the region should always accompany an experienced person. A small pocket compass is useful providing the person carrying one knows the direction he should travel to return to camp.

Words Of Wisdom

He who labors diligently need never despair; for all things are accomplished by diligence and labor.—Menander.

Mohammedan priests in South Africa are said to be remarkable for the ways in which they memorize the 2,400,000 words of the Koran. Some have spent their entire lives at the work, reading no other book.

Elevated Cars May Run Again, In West

New York City Ordered Not To Scrap Cars Usable For Transportation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The war workers in the middle and far west may be riding in New York elevated cars soon.

This developed today after ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman ordered New York City not to scrap and junk 800 old elevated cars because they might be needed in other cities to relieve public transportation shortages.

Eastman said, however, that the nation's biggest metropolises could scrap the elevated structure near the Polo Grounds if other places to store the cars can be found.

In telling New York not to scrap the cars themselves, Eastman explained: "There would be no worthwhile purpose served by scrapping equipment today for which there may be a desperate need tomorrow."

He said that there were originally 1,000 of the old elevated cars, but that more than 200 had been assigned to other cities for use on transport systems.

"Requests for allotments from the remaining 800 unassigned cars are coming in from almost every section of the country," he added. "These requests will be weighed carefully on the basis of need before any other assignments of the pool will be approved."

Eastman concluded: "Elevated cars are not the only type of equipment which is being dispatched to parts of the country where it is most needed. Surface cars have been transferred from Erie, Pa., to Atlanta, Ga., and from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to San Diego, Calif. Steam cars have been sent from California to Portland, Ore.

There are no railroads in Afghanistan. Merchandise is transported on camel or pony back along the seven important trade routes.

Public Transportation Here May Become Real Serious Problem Soon

A "bottleneck" in public motor coach transportation looms for New Castle—and, if it develops, it will bring far more headaches than most people think.

Out of a stack of figures and statements obtained in a careful survey of approximately one-third of all of New Castle's industrial workers has come facts that point to serious complications in public transit here—unless more plant workers soon start sharing their cars and, by the same token, sparing their precious tires.

Results From 15 Plants

In the partial study a total of 4,869 employees filled in questionnaires—out of a possible 7,988 who work in the 15 plants covered. Results from seven other major industries are still being tabulated.

Under the auspices of the New Castle War Transportation Committee, the questionnaires sought to determine how workers today travel to and from their jobs, and how long their tires will last.

Today, of the 4,869 covered in the partial test, a total of 3,463 are riding to work in 1,642 cars. This is an average of 2.1 persons per car.

The check showed that 8,091 persons could comfortably ride in those same 1,642 automobiles, or an average of 4.8 persons per car. That, obviously would mean saving more tires.

The average plant car driver thinks his present tires will stand up for another 8.4 months—some say "they hope."

That in itself poses a real problem when you understand that in all of July but 31 tires were available to plant workers.

Extra Buses Essential

Hopes that New Castle will receive more new buses for its coach system are still held, in spite of the fact that high Office of Defense Transportation officials have said that those now on order with the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Co. are not included within the quota approved for construction by the War Production Board.

The approaching problem appears in clearer light when you hear that of the 4,869 workers sampled so far in the survey, a total of 2,530 employees will depend on the buses for transportation—and not just 955 who travel to and from work that way today.

Industrial plant officials here have joined with the Shenango Valley Transportation Co. in its effort to sell the ODT on the need of the new buses. Roger Jewett, secretary to the War Transportation Committee, assured, The support is gaining daily.

Thomas C. Moore, city transportation administrator and head of the SVT system locally, explained that the partial survey is but the first of an intensive all-angle study of the possible transportation problem here.

Tabulation of the incoming survey returns continues.

British Government To Swap Inventions

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Britain and the United States have reached an agreement whereby they will exchange inventions for the duration of the war, it was disclosed in a British government white paper.

The basic principle of the agreement, it was said, is for each government to undertake at its own cost to obtain from its nationals information and manufacturing rights which the other needs.

TIME ON THEIR HANDS

The weekly seminar on "Crime Doesn't Pay" was held in court room No. 1 Saturday morning with Judge W. Walter Braham leading the discussion and Judge John G. Lamoree sitting with him.

The weekly array of men who have been convicted or pleaded to violations of law passed in front of the court and the sentences handed down were no bargain in any language.

John Argiro drew first prize in the distribution of sentences. The gentleman is no stranger to the court, having been up before. He had pleaded to being engaged in the numbers racket and the sentence was $500 and costs and ten months in the county jail.

"If the fine and costs are paid we will hear a petition for parole after some time has been served," said Judge Braham. Addressing himself to Argiro he said, "this is a mean, cheap business for a man to be in."

The $500 sentence is not aimed so much at you as it is at the gentlemen who go to Florida in the winters and who hire little folks like you to take the rap for them. We can't get at them apparently but we can make it costly to them."

John Argiro drew first prize in the distribution of sentences. The gentleman is no stranger to the court, having been up before. He had pleaded to being engaged in the numbers racket and the sentence was $500 and costs and ten months in the county jail.

Paul Jones, driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and three months in the workhouse. On a charge of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been suspended he was given three months in the workhouse, the sentences to run concurrently.

Walter Janiel, operating a motor vehicle after a suspension of driver's license, got 60 days to the county jail.

Joseph P. Crouch, failure to stop, failure to disclose identity and operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, drew two sentences, of three months to the county jail, to run concurrently and was fined $100 and costs.

Walter B. Michalik, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and six months to the county jail. On a charge of failure to disclose identity he was given six months in jail, the sentences to run concurrently.

Robert Mulcahy, convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the death of Charles A. Shepp, Sr., by Mulcahy's automobile, was sentenced to the George Junior Republic in Grove City for an indefinite term.

Sherman Johns, failure to stop and disclose identity, was fined $100 and costs and required to pay for repairs to cars injured and damages to person.

Luther Cox, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and got six months to the workhouse.

SAVORY SOUP

There's a limit to will power, especially where food is concerned. After inhaling the fragrance of soups being made in the jail kitchen for many years this department of the paper finally capitulated Saturday and spoke to Mrs. Clyde Badger, wife of the sheriff, about it. After all one can't have his olfactory nerves assailed day after day with appetizing odors without getting the idea of tasting some of the soup.

After a hint not quite as broad as a battleship, Mrs. Badger invited us to have a bowl of the soup and after tasting that soup we can see why jail breaks are uncommon in Lawrence county. It was vegetable soup—and what soup. Potatoes, carrots, onions, cabbage, barley, parsley and some other vegetables, all boiled down to a sea fragrance and color, surrounding an island of beef. The soup was done thoroughly, it was thick, it was savory and it was tasty. It was good to the last drop, to quote the advertisement. But in this case the last drop was good too.

U. S. Growing Aerial Might Upsets Japan's War Program

Enemy Stalled By Air Attacks

Nipponese Hampered In Efforts To Mass Forces For New Offensive

HEAVY TOLL TAKEN
BY U. S. AIR FORCES

By JOSEPH A. BORS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—America's growing aerial might was given credit today by war analysts for upsetting Japan's time-table on conquest in the Aleutians, the Southwest Pacific and the Far East.

While the Nipponese presumably have been gathering their land, sea and air forces in the mid-Pacific for another stab at United States outposts, these sources pointed out that American aerial blows have stalled the enemy for months.

Ever since the American victory at Midway, in which a Japanese 20 ship invasion armada was smashed and driven off, the Nipponese have made no effort to meet U. S. forces on a basis even approximating equality for a showdown battle at any point.

U. S. Has Initiative

In the Solomons, U. S. Marines have maintained the initiative while holding the strategic points on Guadalcanal and adjacent islands, and land-based American planes have used the airfields in this area to blast enemy positions to the northwest.

The enemy has been moving relentlessly southward with reinforcements and supplies, but to date these Jap units have been unable to dent American defense positions. U. S. Marines have held since early August the Guadalcanal airport the Japs built for their own use and lost before they could make use of it.

In the Aleutians American Army and Navy planes and U. S. submarines have prevented the Japs from consolidating and extending their positions toward Dutch Harbor and the Alaskan mainland.

Check Moresby Drive
From Australia, United Nations planes under Gen. Douglas MacArthur have checked the Nipponese drive toward Moresby and the northern shore of that important continent.

Similar disrupting blows have been dealt the Japanese by American airmen based in India and China. As a result of U. S. aerial activity in these areas, the enemy has been unable to carry out its plans to control these two far eastern countries.

That Japan has not been merely marking time for fresh blows was indicated by the fact that America's "second front" offensive in the southwest Pacific has been gaining momentum despite Nipponese counter-thrusts.

Naval men pointed out that Japan would not knowingly or willingly permit the United States to get set for future action unless she were in a position where she could not help herself.

Unione Calabro Officers Elected

Each spoke on the welfare of the club, and finally the meeting adjourned until October 25.

Young People Sponsor City Mission Rally

Young Union Group Sponsors
Evangelical Rally This Evening At Mission

This evening the New Castle Union young people's group will sponsor a young people's rally at the City Rescue Mission at eight o'clock. Organized seven years ago, the Young Union group has, during that time, sponsored evangelical meetings, the last of which was the James A. Stewart campaign.

Principal speaker tonight is to be Rev. Schausse, of Harrisville.

Other local ministers will participate in the rally. Rev. O. W. Hurst, of the First Baptist church, will lead the song service. And others who will take part are Rev. E. R. Spring, of Hillsville Methodist church; Rev. Sidney K. Bliss, of the Central Christian church; Rev. R. Fredericks, of Calvary Tabernacle, and Rev. Lester Bailey, of Simpson Methodist church.

Music will be provided by Robert McKinney, of the quartet of the Young People's group.

Rev. B. R. McKnight Conference Speaker

Adult And Administrative Conference Held Sunday In First Baptist Church

A stirring inspirational message on the subject, "God's Time-table," was delivered by Rev. B. R. McKnight, minister of the First Methodist church of this city, at the joint adult and administrative conference at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon.

Six of the eight district comprising the county Sunday School association were represented. Robert L. Meermans, administrative superintendent, presided. Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, minister of the conference church, had charge of the song service, and Rev. G. S. Bennett, minister of the First Christian church, had the opening devotional service.

An interesting open forum and discussion period was conducted by Rev. A. M. Stevenson, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City. Many took part in the discussions, and the period was most beneficial and helpful.

Sharon Youths Join For Duty In Navy

Chief Navy Recruiter D. C. Ritchie today announced that two Sharon youths volunteered over the weekend for service with the navy. The recruits, Joseph Ridge-way Deflin and Ernest William Pryor, Jr., will take their training at one of the large naval training stations and then attend a trade school or go on duty with the fleet.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

BUILT-UP LITTER AID TO HEALTHY POULTRY

Right now many Lawrence county poultrymen have the start of the built-up litter in their laying houses.

When pullets are housed in warm weather, the warm air passing through the house quickly dries droppings in the loose litter. This loose, lightweight litter serves as an insulator over the floor.

A thin layer of litter breaks up quickly as the hens scratch it. As the straw gets broken, more of the coarse straw can be added. Feeding some scratch grain in the litter helps to promote the rapid breaking up of the straw. By observing closely, the poultryman can tell when to add more straw so the litter will be built up. Usually litter six to eight inches deep is ample for most housing conditions.

When pullets are not housed until later in the fall, it is advisable to shred the straw, or to put some material of a finer texture on the floor before adding the straw. A few inches of dry sawdust, shavings, sand, or commercial litter, or finely ground corn cobs mix readily with the coarser material as the built-up litter is being formed.

It is necessary to remove wet litter around openings and water containers and level off the dry litter to fill the sections cleaned. When the litter on the surface is not in good condition, remove it and add a small amount of fresh litter.

Adequate ventilation, an early start, not using too much straw at the beginning, keeping moisture from water fountains at a minimum, properly stirring and distributing litter over the floor, and not allowing litter to get too deep contribute to the success of the built-up litter.

MILKING MACHINE LASTS LONGER WITH GOOD CARE

Farmers who are using milking machines must operate them as though they were made of gold. Milking machines need the same careful washing and sterilizing as other dairy equipment.

The four major steps in the care of the milking machine are:

1. Rinse with lukewarm water, using the vacuum to get a thorough rinsing.

2. Dismantle and wash in an alkaline solution, using properly designed brushes.

3. Rinse thoroughly with hot water, using enough to rinse the wash water from the equipment. Store, keeping the rubber parts immersed in either chlorine or lye solution.

4. The most important step is to sterilize with a chemical chlorine solution just before milking, do not rinse, but proceed to milk.

To conserve the rubber parts of the milking machine, keep them clean; do not bend, hammer or pull the rubber; keep them out of the sunlight; do not boil or sterilize by steam or boiling water; rinse thoroughly; store in a crock or solution rack; and use storage solutions according to the manufacturer's directions.

HEAVY PULLETS CAN BE TRAINED TO ROOST

Poultry growers who have heavy pullets like Rocks, Reds or Wyandottes sometimes have trouble getting them to roost when put in the laying houses. By putting 25 to 35 pullets in one pen the first day and seeing that they sleep on the roosts the first night, this difficulty usually can be overcome.

Wherever chickens roost the first night when placed in new quarters, they usually want to continue to roost at the same place. For that reason it is desirable to prevent pullets from sleeping on the floor, hoppers or floors the first night they are in the laying quarters.

When 30 birds are put into a pen that has a capacity for 100 or more birds, the quarters are not crowded. This allows the poultryman to set pullets on the roosts that do not go of their own accord. The second night all birds are likely to roost at the proper place, and as other pullets are added to the flock they are likely to follow the ones first housed.

Plans for nests that can be closed at night are given in the Pennsylvania State college circular 115, "Poultry Housing for Pennsylvania." Copies of this circular are available at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

STORE VEGETABLES FOR WINTER USE

Home gardeners can extend the supply of vegetables through the winter by ground storage. This results in a savings of money and a better supply of food for the family. Only well developed mature vegetables, free of insects and mechanical injuries should be stored.

Root crops, cabbage and potatoes may be stored in a barrel pit placed in a horizontal position in the side of a bank or in a slanting position in a level well drained soil. A barrel, heavy box, or similar material may be used for this purpose. A tightly fitting lid should be made to keep out rodents. A layer of straw or leaves is placed over the pit and on top of this a layer of dirt should be added. As severe weather approaches a second layer of straw is placed over the pit and covered with ground. If potatoes are stored in this manner, care must be exercised to prevent chilling (temperatures below 38 degrees Fahrenheit). Small amounts of root crops may be stored in a cold room if placed in a crock, discarded lard can, or in a similar container and covered with a tight lid to prevent escape of moisture. Celery, cabbage or endive can be placed in a similar container, or a tub, with the roots placed in moist soil and left uncovered.

Where a large amount of root crops or potatoes are to be stored, they may be placed in piles three feet high and as high as they can be piled. They are then covered with straw 8 to 10 inches thick and then with soil. Additional layers of straw and soil may be added as the winter becomes more severe.

Regardless of the method used in storing the vegetables, should be about as cool as it is safe to have them before they are placed in storage. If the vegetables are warm when placed in storage, they will deteriorate much more rapidly.

DRIED BEANS COME TO AID OF MEATLESS MEALS

With prospects of meat rationing and meatless menus, the dried bean and pea families will become more important and popular as meat substitutes.

Dried beans and peas provide protein in the diet and are high in minerals and vitamins, particularly food-iron and vitamin B, says Miss Ann Quinn, home economics extension representative. Because beans and peas are a concentrated food, they add that necessary hearty note to a meal. They are in expensive and easy to keep.

To prepare dry beans so that they are attractive to serve, just remember to soak, simmer and season. Soaking five to six hours brings the beans back to their original state and shortens the cooking time. When cooked in the same water in which they are soaked, valuable vitamins and minerals are saved. If the bean flavor is strong, you may have to drain and add fresh water. Soft water will help to soften the skins and make the beans tender. Adding soda destroys some of the vitamins.

Let simmer when cooking, explains Miss Quinn. Add water from time to time as dried foods absorb a great deal of water. Boiling too hard toughens the skin.

Season with care. Old ways are popular, but a new seasoning adds variety and helps avoid monotony. Herbs, catsup, spicy sauces, onion, celery, and green pepper adds the snappy flavor that is needed.

Whether Boston, or Michigan, baked beans always will be popular, but bean soup or chowder, bean loaf, bean casserole and bean salad are newer styles. Dried peas may be prepared and served in the same way as beans.

When serving dried beans or peas, it is an excellent plan to add a salty or sour food, something fresh or crisp, or a bright or spicy food to the menu. A salad may add that color, crispness, and cheerfulness that is needed to go with dried beans or peas. Tomatoes also play a prominent part in dried bean cookery, for they add a spicy flavor.

Private service passenger carriers in Cuba have been ordered to curtail operations by 20 percent to conserve tires and gasoline, according to the Department of Commerce.

More Nurses' Aides Needed

Appeal Directed To Local Women To Enroll For Volunteer Service

COMMITTEE IS NOW ORGANIZED

Organization of the Nurses' Aide committee to assist at the local hospitals, has been completed, with Mrs. Harry Barkby as chairman, Mrs. William Hayford, vice chairman, and Mrs. William Kinard and Mrs. Clarence Davis representing the community service committee of the Women's club; along with Mrs. William Hinkson, representing the Junior Guild; Mrs. James D. Crawford, representing the Lawrence County Medical Society Auxiliary, and Mrs. A. B. Fankhouser, president of the Women's club, as ex-officio member.

The committee will meet soon with Miss Prudence Appelman, superintendent of nurses at the Jamestown Memorial hospital, and Sister Dolorosa, superintendent of nurses at the New Castle hospital, for the purpose of making contacts with the women who have already registered as Nurses' Aides.

It is stated that many more volunteers will be needed for this service, and women between the ages of 18 and 50, who have had a high school education or its equivalent, and able to give unlimited service after 80 hours of training at the hospitals, are especially urged to enroll. There is no remuneration for this work.

Those who wish to enroll are asked to make application in person, not by telephone, at the office of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Former Scrap Record Beaten

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Scrap collections in the Ellwood City district reached 89 tons which is three tons over the record set here last April. The Chamber of Commerce salvage committee, through its chairman, Jake Beloff, reported the tonnage to the state salvage committee so that the 89 tons is still a record for the month of September.

A great many homes here had well over 200 lbs. of scrap when the trucks made the house to house canvass the past two weeks. There is still another 20 or 30 tons expected to be put on a final clean-up campaign in another week. If anyone has a goodly portion of the scrap and wish to donate the scrap to the U.S.O. fund, they are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce whose telephone number is 800.

R. J. Schill, Chamber secretary, who is chairman of the industrial scrap collection in the city, stated that no definite tonnage had been reported yet this month from the local mills but it is expected to exceed last month's tonnage by nearly 150 tons.

Everyone is urged to check on any old scrap that might be lying around as steel mills are in dire need of the scrap immediately.

Civilian Defense Activities Listed

Air Raid Wardens And Fire Watchers For Fifth Ward Are Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Have you met your air raid warden? If not, watch this paper. For the next few days we will have a list of the wardens from the different sectors in town. Watch for the names of those from your sector. Remember what your air raid warden's name is, meet him, know what he looks like, and where he is to be found. He is your best friend in an emergency. He can give you some advice on which your life may depend. He has attended classes and meetings for the last six months to learn how to help you.

Ewing Park, or Fifth ward, is Sector Two (2). Mr. Harvey Tribby is sector warden, with Mrs. Clarence Kauffman as assistant. Wardens of that sector are as follows: E. E. Kerr, Willard Beyer, George Benitum, E. D. Goehring, C. Kaufman, Mrs. Harry Soisberg, Mrs. C. K. Shaffer, Jesse Morrison, Mrs. E. E. McCandless, Ben Chambers, Charles Wilson, Frank Blaine, John Pastin, Victor Rider, Mrs. P. Lutton, Mrs. John Lindgren, Carol Brooks, Charles Hill, George Cather, Mrs. R. L. Williams, Mrs. John Pastin, John Lindgren, Floyd S. Bartle, Gertrude E. Bayers, Ethel Burkle, William Burkle, William E. Edwards, Mrs. B. Guttmacher, George Kay, H. L. King, George Wilson, Doris Shirley, James F. Croft, Mrs. James Croft, Earl E. McCandless, Jack Yoder.

Working with the air raid wardens, and equally important, are the following fire watchers: Robert Perkins, Walter Levere, Ben Stoner, Frank Sternberg, Lawrence Kraus, Joseph Bagosi, Allen Keller, Lorne Haberman, Robert Allen, Alex Robuck, Merle Clawson, Lawrence Finner, Paul P. Chapla, Donald R. Wick, John Ward, Harry V. Keller.

If you have any questions to ask call the warden nearest you and he will be glad to help.

Rod-Gun Clubs Meet Tonight

Mechanical Deer Again To Feature Field Day Trial Here On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Tonight a combined meeting of the Ellwood and Wampum Rod and Gun clubs will be held at the club house. A trap shoot will be held during the evening to try out the lights in preparation for the big field day event on Saturday.

One of the outstanding events of the field trial will be the mechanically operated running deer for 14th powered rifle shooting. The deer has been perfected and is one of the best of the few in the district. It will travel a distance of 100 yards through the woods at the rate of 35 miles per hour. The shooters will be 50 yards away from the track. Ammunition and guns will be available for those that don't want to waste their shells.

Arrangements for the event are being handled by Carl and Steve Garzkowski, John Copps, Victor Markle, Nick Ritorio, J. Vesco, Carl Chappell and Floyd Smiles.

Paul Gibbons, Jimmy Jones Now In Service

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—George Paul Gibbons is now at Fort Meade, Md., following his enlistment with the U. S. Army Air Force last Thursday. After induction he will be sent to another post for basic training.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gibbons of Wurtemburg, he graduated from the local high school with the May class of this year, and has been employed since then by the National Tube company.

Jimmy Jones, son of Mrs. Anna Jones, Fifth street, has enrolled in the U. S. Merchant Marines, and left on Sunday for Baltimore, Md., where he will receive training for four months.

A graduate of the local high school, Jones has been employed for sometime in the laboratory of the National Tube company.

PAY OFF YOUR DEBTS

... Here's how a Household loan can help you clean up your old bills on a monthly payment plan

Do you need some extra cash? Would you like to pay off old bills as part of your wartime financial program? This advertisement tells about a simple plan which is helping many men and women with their present day money problems.

Suppose you need $100 for an emergency or to pay off debts. You can get the money in a quick, simple transaction. Then you may repay on a regular monthly payment plan. At the end of a definite time you are entirely in the clear. The payment plan thus becomes a personal debt paying program.

The cost of this service is reasonable. Suppose you borrow $100 and repay in six monthly installments of $18.46 each, a total of $110.76. The cost of your loan is just $10.76. A $50 loan, repaid in six monthly installments of $9.23 each, a total of $55.38, costs only $5.38.

This service has been specially designed for folks with jobs. Many people have no car, furniture or other security on which to borrow. And they hate to ask friends to sign notes. Salary loans give these people an opportunity to borrow on earning ability and willingness to repay. When you get a salary loan you merely give us your personal note. We take no wage assignment of any kind. And no endorser is required. We make many loans on other plans. The principal requirement is a job or other source of income. Even when making car and furniture loans, we consider character and regular income far more important than the actual value of your security.

Loans for many purposes
You may use a Household loan to pay a doctor or dentist bill, insurance, instalment contracts, old store bills, car repairs, union fees, a training course, tools, moving expenses, coal for winter, and for expenses many other kinds.

You may repay your loan on almost any plan you wish. The table shows how loans may be repaid in 2 to 12 payments. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Look in the table now for the loan you need. See how you may repay out of monthly income.

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 3% per month on that part of a loan balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100.

This rate is less than the lawful maximum on loans of more than $100. Compare rates and costs before you borrow anywhere. Why pay more for your loan than you have to?

If you can make good use of a loan, see us at once. Or just phone and tell us how much you need.

FILL YOUR COAL BIN NOW
We gladly make loans for buying coal

Wurtemburg Firemen Buy Kettler Garage

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—At a special meeting of the Wurtemburg Fire Department held on Saturday evening at the Wurtemburg school, it was agreed to purchase the Charles Kettler garage for use as a fire station.

The building will be used to house the fire truck and as a hall for suppers and dances. The department made a partial payment on the building.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, October 5, instead of the usual date as the company is sponsoring a social that night at the Elks club.

Last Rites For Mrs. Eva Majors

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Frye Majors, who passed away on Thursday evening at her home, Wurtemburg, after an extended illness, were held on Sunday afternoon from the residence.

Rev. J. E. Caughey, pastor of the Wurtemburg U. P. church, officiated at the services which were attended by many friends and relatives. There were many lovely flowers.

A daughter of the late Solomon and Mary Lewis Frye, she was born and raised and spent her entire lifetime in Perry township. She is survived by a daughter, Olive; a son, Reed; one sister, Mrs. Frances Shaffer of Rockdale; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Interment was made in the Wurtemburg cemetery with pallbearers being Donald and Dell Strickhizer, Herman Smith, Roy Humes, Ralph Richter and Carl Witte.

Churches Plan Fall Revivals

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Once again the North Sewickley Presbyterian and Providence Baptist churches will combine for fall evangelistic services. The meetings will open on Monday, October 11, with Rev. Wayne W. Patch, pastor of the Zelenople Methodist church as the guest preacher.

In preparation for the services, the following combined prayer meetings have been arranged for this week.

Monday night at the homes of Samuel Hazen, Frisco; Bessie and Lulu Collins, North Sewickley township; and Jay McDonald, Riverview. Wednesday at the Presbyterian church.

Friday at the home of Charles Bowers, Zelenople road; Charles Pflugh, North Sewickley township; and Thomas Czar, Riverview.

Keys Collected To Be Exhibited

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—The keys collected by the school children will be on display in the J. I. Porter & Son Furniture store window. An official count of the total number of keys brought in by all the school children has not as yet been made. The total number brought in at the high school was 12,066 keys and the grade school collection is expected to swell that total to some 20,000 keys.

The Chamber of Commerce salvage committee extends their congratulations to the teachers and school children for the splendid job that was done.

Paralysis Fatal To Elmer Hum

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kramer, North Sewickley, have received word that their son-in-law, Elmer Hum, of Ferrum, W. Va., died at 4:20 o'clock this morning in the Roanoke, W. Va., hospital. Mr. Hum's death occurred suddenly, after he was stricken with a form of paralysis.

He was a teacher in the Ferrum high school and was married to Miss Elizabeth Kramer, a nurse at the Beaver Valley General hospital, several years ago.

Brief funeral services will be held this evening at the residence, after which the body will be brought to the home of his mother and sister, Miss Margaret Hum, at New Brighton, where services will be held at a time to be announced.

SEVENTH
WARDLarge Crowd At
Society Banquet

Informal Evening Enjoyed By
St. Margaret's Society
Members, Friends

Rainy weather offered no excuse for members of St. Margaret's society from attending the annual banquet at the hall, North Liberty street, indications showing that quite an unusually large crowd attended the event Saturday evening.

The serving of the delicious dinner, well prepared by the ladies committee, was served at 6:30 o'clock by officials of the society. Speakers included at the dinner were: Bartolomeo Lombardo, president and general chairman; James Zarilla, Mike Lambiasi, Patsy Monico, Felix Floriente and Mack Donnick.

Later, to the music of a local orchestra, members and friends enjoyed a period of dancing. The affair highly successful in every way, is due to the cooperation of the various committees.

Mrs. Bart Lombardo was general chairman of the kitchen committee. October 8 is the date chosen for the next meeting.

Large Audience
Sunday Evening

Rev. John E. Myers Jr., Mahoningtown Presbyterian Church, Preaches Farewell Sermon

Sunday evening, Mahoningtown Presbyterian church was crowded to capacity, it being the last Sunday evening service for the pastor, Rev. John Earl Myers, Jr., before entering U. S. service as a chaplain. The pastor's mother, Mrs. John Earl Myers, Jr., and aunt, Miss Margaret Woods, both of Pittsburgh, were present.

This evening at 7:45 there will be an emergency meeting of the congregation of the church, which will be followed by a farewell reception in honor of the pastor, Mrs. Myers and Miss Woods will return for the latter event.

Mrs. Paul Bender is chairman of arrangements.

Snake Appears
On West Madison

Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock at a point about 100 feet from Liberty street on West Madison avenue, the attention of several people was attracted when they saw a gentleman watching something intently on the sidewalk. On going to the spot, it was found that there was a small snake, about a foot and a half long, wriggling back and forth on the sidewalk and to the curb as if seeking to hide itself. The man believed the snake had come out of a disused roof water drainpipe. The reptile made a pass at the man a couple of times, also at one of the youths, possibly because they stood between it and its escape to its hole in the iron pipe. The youth watching his opportunity, put his foot on the snake's head and with vigorous twists soon snuffed out the life of the reptile. It is believed the snake migrated to this location from the woods, a couple of hundred yards away.

Seventh Ward Traffic
Detour Begins Today

Penna. railroad employees have placed limestone between the railroad tracks, a short distance south of the crossing on Mahoning avenue. This new crossover will be used by the city buses on their trips to and from Washington street to Mahoningtown. Other traffic will use another route between the city and Mahoningtown. This arrangement has been made to enable railroad employees to take out the crossover rails at the crossing, and install a straight section of rails in their stead.

OPPORTUNITY CIRCLE
WILL SEND BOX OF
CLOTHING TO MISSION

Mrs. W. C. Patterson of 407 North Cedar street will entertain the Opportunity Circle of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church at her home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. D. H. Cochran and Mrs. Arthur Moss will be associate hostesses.

The ladies expect to pack a box of clothing on October 7, to be sent to a southern mission school. Those who desire to donate clothing may leave same at the church, or with Mrs. George H. Cook of 405 Newell avenue.

BACK TO "HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS"?

Located opposite the entrance to the office of the Mahoning Loan Association, on North Liberty street, is an iron ring, fastened to an iron stake driven just within the curb, used years ago for securing horse's hitching straps. Harry L. Elder, the manager, states that the ring may soon come back into use, if the fire and gasoline restrictions become very stringent, and he has to restore to coming back and forth to the office in a horse and buggy, or on horse back.

CAR REPAIRMAN HURT
Joseph Matthews, a car repairman's helper at the Pennsylvania R. R., suffered a badly bruised left foot, but no bones were broken, when the gate of a gondola car fell on his foot Saturday afternoon. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

RETURNS TO DUTY
Private First Class Ralph Gaspare has returned to his duties at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., after spending the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gaspare, 105 West Cherry street.

SACRED HEART SODALITY
There will be a meeting of the Sacred Heart Sodality Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church auditorium, with the president, Mrs. T. C. Rainey, in charge.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Tuesday evening at 7:45, choir practice. Wednesday evening, 7:45, annual congregational meeting, when officers will be elected by members of the church and Sunday school; a light lunch will be served at the close. Thursday evening,

TEAM PLAYS FINAL
GAME THIS WEEK

Due to inclement weather Sunday, St. Margaret's society baseball team was unable to play the deciding championship game with the West Side team.

The team has won two out of three games and the first team to chalk down three games to its favor will be the winning team.

This final deciding game is to be played sometime this week at one of the seventh ward's ball fields.

ROAST CHICKEN AROMA

Three ladies were crossing North Liberty street Saturday afternoon carrying a couple of clothes hampers between them. It was found that the baskets contained large portions of roast chicken, being taken to their destination, St. Margaret's hall, corner of Darlington avenue, where there was to be a banquet that evening. The aroma from the roast chicken filled the air in that location.

Explosion, Blaze In Baum Offices Injures Five Other Persons

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—An explosion and fire which swept the downtown offices of Dr. R. H. Baum Saturday afternoon left two persons dead, five others in the hospital and total damages amounting to $10,000 today.

More than a score of patients, nurses and dentists escaped to safety after the blast, which started in the laboratory on the third floor. Those who were injured fatally were Abraham Canter, 25, of Pittsburgh, and Frank Ray, 42, of Greensburg, both dental technicians. Both died several hours after the fire.

For a good many years there has been a marked tendency for temperatures in the United States to average above normal, says the Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce.

Farmers To Ask
Milk Price RaiseDairymen In Local District Will Be Granted Hearing In Pittsburgh

Dairymen of the Pittsburgh milk marketing area No. 2, which includes most of Lawrence county, will be given a hearing by the Milk Control Commission at the Fort Pitt hotel in Pittsburgh, starting at 10:30 a. m., on October 13, on their proposal for an increase in the market price of milk.

Unfavorable milk prices, and scarcity of help, is causing many farmers to cut the size of their herds so that one man can handle the herd, and the cows thus cut off are being sold for beef. This is bound to result in a shortage of milk unless some relief is offered the farmers, the dairymen state.

The situation was discussed at the meeting of district dairymen here last week, when these facts were brought out. The present retail price of grade B milk is 14 cents per quart. This compares with prices as high as 17 cents in the eastern market and 15 cents in the mid-west market.

Leaf-Blotch Makes
Leaves Fall EarlyJuly Rains Responsible For Widespread Infection-Of Ornamental Trees

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Reports received by the Department of Forests and Waters from various sections of the state indicate an early defoliation of many ornamental trees. This condition may be attributed to the leaf-blotch, a fungi which is recognized by irregular colored spots on the leaves, says Albert B. Mickalitis, research forester. The leaf-blotch affecting the foliage has caused property owners to be alarmed for the life of their trees. This disease is serious in that it causes rapid defoliation, resulting in the growth of the trees being retarded, and making them more susceptible to winter injury.

It is easy to identify the symptoms of leaf-blotch. First, irregular spots slightly discolored and water soaked in appearance develop on the leaves.

Later the spots turn reddish brown or purplish in color and are surrounded by an unhealthy yellowish zone which finally turns brown, becomes dry and brittle, and often causes the leaf to curl. Continued rainy weather such as occurred during the month of July is especially favorable to widespread infection. The dead infected leaves that fall to the ground frequently have fruiting bodies formed upon them, and these put forth the diseased spores which infect the new leaves when they appear on the trees in the spring. These leaves should be raked together and burned as soon as they fall to the ground, as this practice helps to eliminate the source of early infections the following spring. This eradication measure in case of heavy infection on valuable trees should be supplemented by spraying with a Bordeaux mixture. The first application should be made about the time the new leaves are half grown; the second, when the leaves have reached full size and the third, two weeks later. No benefit can be expected by spraying the trees after considerable amounts of infection have appeared.

Oil from the cashew shell is one of the best lubricants for magneto armatures in airplanes because of its high heat-resisting qualities, says the Department of Commerce.

Cards Now Await Series With Yanks

St. Louis Nabs National Banner On Last Day, Lose 9 Of Last 52 Games

TURN BACK CUBS TWICE YESTERDAY

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Baseball's war of nerves, which would have made gibbering idiots of the sports fans of America if it had continued another week, is over. As you let loose a welcome sigh of relief, just look back at that what might be the last major league baseball season for the duration, certainly must go into the books as one of the most thrilling in the 76-year history of the National League.

When St. Louis, behind the pitching and batting of Southpaw Ernie White, whipped the Cubs, 9-2, in the first game of a twin bill out in St. Louis yesterday, they finally grasped the league flag they have been reaching for since 1934.

Win Uplift Fight

And when they nestled it to their bosoms the Cards, weary and sore after a tremendous uphill fight, had accomplished something even their wildest-eyed, hometown fan would have said was impossible back on August 10.

On that day the 1941 champions, the Brooklyn Dodgers, were out in front by 10 full games and it looked like they were as safe an investment as war bonds, to back for the '42 championship.

Manager Billy Southworth, his team plagued by injuries in mid-season, refused to give up. He kept his men fighting mad, told them that the Dodgers had been playing at too fast a clip and would certainly have a slump before the season ended.

As Billy told us then "a team just can't keep playing 750 ball all year. They're bound to crack some time and that's when we have to be ready to go to town. If we can get up close to them before they have a real blow-up, we'll have a chance. If you don't think Uncle Willie, whose home run just 16 years ago brought the Cards the first pennant in their history, had the right idea, digest a little of the amazing history they wrote under terrific fire in the stretch drive. The Cards had trailed Brooklyn for 144 days.

They came to Brooklyn on a wild September, after going on a wild spree in their own western back-country and gained a tie for first place by beating the bums for the 13th time Sept. 12.

On September 13th the Dodgers dropped two games to Cincinnati while the Cards to a doubleheader with the Phillies and moved into first place. They had finally gotten to the front but the race was by no means over!

Their strength sapped, their muscles aching, this young club, which out a single veteran of the 1934 out a single veteran of the pressure of holding the lead turned on them. They never gave up the fight—and they never gave up the lead!

Rally Again

And yesterday, with a four-run uprising in the fifth inning, St. Louis knocked their former teammate, Lou Warner, from the mound and just coasted home to

Whacky Grid Season Starts

Pitt True To Form, Takes 50-7 Battering From Brutal Minnesota

IRISH-WISCONSIN DEADLOCK SURPRISE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The first big week-end of the football season left potential champions at least temporarily established on all fronts, left some hopeful teams beaten down and brought to the fore a few which may cause some upsets before the season is over.

Wisconsin's 7 to 7 tie with Notre Dame was one of Saturday's big surprises, along with Minnesota's battering of Pittsburgh by 50 to 7, even though the Gophers have lost Bernie Bierman to the service.

Through it all there were no campus-wrecking upsets and as of today, the top eleven in the various sections appear to be:

Middle West—Minnesota, Iowa,

winner over Nebraska, 27-0; Michigan, which subdued the Great Lakes

Naval Training Station, 9 to 0;

Notre Dame and Wisconsin, although the latter probably will drop out sooner or later.

Fordham-Penn Strong

East—Fordham, which beat Purdue 14 to 7, and Penn, loser to the Georgia Pre-Flight Cadets, 14 to 6.

South—Georgia Tech, which downed Auburn, 15 to 0; Duke, winner over Davidson, a weak sister,

21 to 0; Tulane, which went intersectional to take University of Schreiner, California, 27 to 13, and

Louisiana State, which beat Texas

A & M, 16 to 7.

Southwest—Texas, which subdued

Kansas State, 64 to 0, and Rice, for the time being, winner over Corpus Christi Naval, 18 to 7.

Pacific Coast—Oregon State, 32 to for the south was South Carolina's sudden loss to North Carolina, 14

'We Will Win,' Cards Exclaim

Confident Missourians Say They're Not Afraid Of Mighty Yanks

By GENE ROGUSKI

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—"We'll win!" That was the confident battle-cry of the St. Louis Cards, new champions of the National league, today as they prepared to meet New York's formidable Yankees in baseball's annual fall classic—the world's series.

"We know the Yankees will be tough, but we believe we can beat them," declared Manager Billy Southworth. Southworth's senti-ments were echoed by every Cardinal member of the game that put the club "in" yesterday, to the bat boys.

"We've got to win for Billy," was the sentiment expressed among the players generally. It was Southworth who refused to concede the pennant fight lost when his club was 10 games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers early last August.

Team Is Young

Southworth's team, with an average of 26 years, is the youngest Cardinal outfit ever to enter the world's series and one of the youngest clubs ever to win a pennant in either league.

But youth isn't bothering them any. "The Yankees?" asked Terry Moore, the Cards' captain.

"They're a great ball club, but we're not afraid of them. We beat 'em in spring training and, of course, that doesn't count now, but the boys feel that we can beat 'em and if we don't—they'll know they have been through a helluva battle."

"This ball club is at its peak right now."

Southworth announced his starting pitchers in the series, opening here Wednesday, will be Morten Cooper, John Beazley, Max Lanier and White. This quartet won a total of 63 games and lost 26 during the season.

Cooper, the club's star right-hander, won 22 games, 10 of them shutouts, and lost seven. Beazley won 21 and lost 6; Lanier won 13 and lost eight, and White won seven and lost five.

Name Committee On Rationing Of Farm Machinery

Farm Machinery Has Been Temporarily Frozen To Insure Fair Distribution

County rationing of farm machinery will be handled by a county rationing committee composed of County AAA Chairman, Dorris L. Fulkman, and William R. Fox and Norman Hunt, appointed by the County War Board. Two alternates appointed to the board are: Wendell Walker and Carl Heckathorne.

The recent order issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 17, temporarily "freezing" all farm machinery in the hands of dealers and setting up a county rationing committee to control the distribution of the limited supply now on hand, was termed necessary to insure fair distribution of available equipment and its placement where it will do the most good in wartime farming production.

Administration of the farm machinery rationing program was delegated by the War Production Board to the Office of Price Administration, and re-delegated to the Department of Agriculture.

Farm machinery in Group A may be sold only upon approval by the county farm machinery rationing committee. Machinery in Group B, may be sold upon certification by the farmer to the dealer that it is required to meet current agricultural needs. Group C, items that may be sold without restrictions.

Group A, includes such machinery as combines, corn pickers, disc harrows, feed grinders, fertilizer spreaders, grain drills, grain elevators, hay balers, lime spreaders, manure spreaders, milk coolers, milking machines, potato diggers, shredders, and tractors, including garden tractors.

Group B, includes meat machinery and other farm equipment and machinery.

Group C, exempt from rationing control includes hoes, rakes, forks, scythes, shovels, and all hand-operated and small farm machinery and equipment not included in Group A.

There are no restrictions on sale or transfer of used farm machinery, equipment, or repair parts. Equipment in Group A must be purchased not later than October 31, 1942.

Scrap Drive Goes On To October 17

State Campaign Extended To Furnish 500,000 Tons
Of Scrap

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Extending the "scrap harvest" campaign until October 17, Warren R. Roberts, chairman of the state salvage committee, today called on the state to furnish the government a half million tons of iron and steel scrap and rubber for war production uses within the next three weeks.

The goal, he stated is 100 pounds of metal scrap and rubber for each person. Counties which attain that goal will receive a pennant.

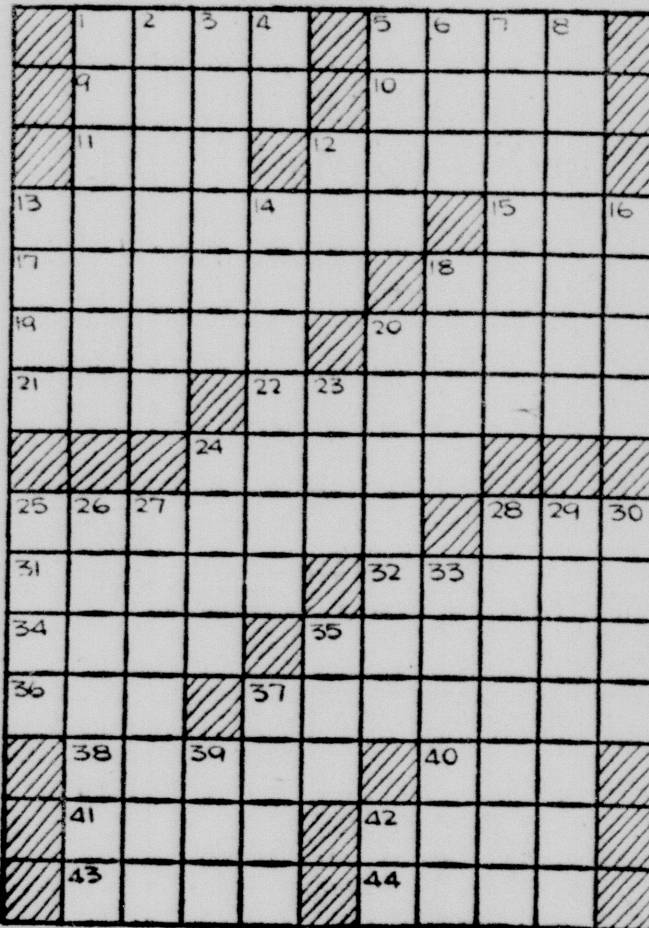

"I want to see a war production board salvage victory pennant flying over the court house in every Pennsylvania county when this intensified drive ends on October 17," stated Roberts.

The "scrap harvest" drive, which began September 15 and was slated to end Wednesday, will now be merged with the newspapers' united metal scrap drive, which gets underway today. So far, said Roberts, the "scrap harvest" campaign has resulted in the collection of 33,565 tons of metal scrap. Roberts said the national school campaign for scrap metal and rubber will begin October 5 and continue until October 17.

The state salvage chairman said he would appoint a committee of judges to assist him in determining the winners of the salvage victory pennants.

Thaddeus Stevens Has Flower Show

Children of the Thaddeus Stevens school held a flower and vegetable show Friday afternoon in the school hall, with defense stamps as prizes for the most outstanding entries.

Winners of the stamps were: Joanne Johnston, Leah Roberts, Charlotte Weatherby, Dorothy Atkinson, Joanne Reynolds, Rose Marie Argelli, Louise Ward, Mary Canfora, Helen June Bates and Janet Navarro. Judges for the show were Mrs. Albert Wilson and Mrs. Edward Davenport, members of the East Side Garden club. The teacher in charge of the garden show was Mrs. Martha McClurg.

Following the garden exhibit, parents and friends were invited to a program presented by the children under the direction of the Misses Emma Gibbons and Marjorie McGee. It consisted of songs and poems by various grade groups, and by the following individual pupils: David Clingensmith, Kathryn Spencer, Alfonso DeCarbo, Catherine Cray, Joan Mancino, Ruth Thompson, Edward Gilmore and Norma Gulespie. The program closed with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

It was announced that the children had purchased over $200 in war stamps and bonds since school began.

FROM ME TO YOU

BY MESEALL

Plans are being laid for another big scrap iron drive here in New Castle and the surrounding territory. It's up to each person back here in civilian life to turn in every pound of scrap that can be found. There is no excuse for anyone neglecting their duty on this item. Farms, house, business places, store and the like should get busy right now so that their scrap will be ready when the collection dates are made known. Either donate your scrap or sell to a local junk dealer... the price is set at which he can buy and also the price at which he can sell... so don't hold up your scrap because you think that the price is not enough... Every pound of scrap will shorten this war and help bring Victory to these United States.

People who never walked in their life before will find it rather a pleasant experience in about one month. They say that the average person will get less than 4 gallons of gasoline. Some people won't be able to start their cars let alone drive them with that amount... but if doing without gas will help the boys out there win this fight, we are willing to say that not one person will complain about doing without their car.

Wonder if the football games will have as big crowds after the car is put up for the winter? There are some people who just go to games to see who else is there and what those others are doing... and in some cases to see who the other person is sitting with... Of course there are a lot of real fans... but just let New Castle lose a game or so and then you will see these so-called fans turn... and do they have sharp talk. Poor sportsmanship... we hope that you are not one of those who can't take it but like to dish it out.

Tonight at 9:30 and then again at 11:45 there will be a show that every person who can arrange it should see. "Wake Island" price of admission is at least one 25 dollar war bond. There will be tickets on sale tonight at the Penn Theatre, where the show will be held, that is tickets for the second show. So why not see a good movie and also help your Uncle by buying War Bonds.

These little classified ads will help you no end.

Tire Allotments Set For October

By JOHN C. LOESER

(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—New passenger car tires to be available to Pennsylvania class A eligibles during October are to be increased 24 per cent over the September quota, while new tires available to class B war workers will be cut 14 per cent, the office of price administration has announced.

Pennsylvania passenger car quota figures for October, as compared with those for September, are as follows: 3,322 new tires for class A eligibles against 2,599; 9,688 new tires for class B war workers against 11,322; 45,592 recaps for class A and B eligibles against 47,565; and 29,646 new tubes for class A and B eligibles against 32,020.

State quota figures for trucks, buses, farm tractors and implements for October against September are: 11,312 new tires for class A eligibles against 13,819; 15,367 recaps for class A and B eligibles against 15,203; and 13,626 new tubes for class A and B eligibles against 15,173.

Spur Hunt For Scrap Metals

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Salvage officials enlisted the aid of 53 business, commercial and industrial groups today to add heavy scrap metal to the 5,675 tons of household and shop scrap piled on street corners by Philadelphia.

Industrial scrap supplies an estimated 80 per cent of all scrap metal fed to the furnaces of steel mills, it was pointed out. The firms were asked to assign representatives to furnish regular reports on every store and building in the city.

The city's elaborate collection system broke down over the week-end as street-cleaning and highway department employees gathered heaps of radiators, bed springs, flatirons and the like set out in the first "pile-up" of the newspaper's united scrap drive.

Meanwhile it was announced that a total of 11,351,740 pounds of scrap had been collected Saturday and Sunday, with the amount of material still lying on corners a matter of "pure conjecture."

Croton Methodists To Have Reception

At the Croton Methodist church, there will be reception on Friday evening, at 7:45, in honor of the pastor, Rev. Homer B. Davies, who has been returned for the second year to the pastorate.

James Snow, Sunday school superintendent, is chairman of arrangements and has as his aides, Mrs. Fred Hill and Mrs. E. E. Blaine.

There will be a program of entertainment, and Mrs. Clara Campbell will lead the singing. Representative ministers of the city will aid in the welcome and reception.

A lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

Relative Dies In Ohio Auto Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Llewellyn, 843 East Washington street, have received word of the death of Mrs. Noah Llewellyn, of Kent, Ohio, on Saturday evening. Mrs. Llewellyn met her death in an automobile accident on the highway between Kent and Akron, Ohio. Her husband, Noah Llewellyn, is the son of Alden Llewellyn, of Akron, formerly of this city, a brother of Fred Llewellyn above. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, from the home in Kent, Ohio.

"Lexington" Crew Stayed At Posts

Engineering Officer Pays Tribute To Engine Crew of Sunken Carrier

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—To a man, the engine room crew of the giant aircraft carrier Lexington stuck to their posts deep down in the heart of the sinking ship until forced on deck by gasoline and oil explosions.

Lieut. Blair Johnson, 40-year-old engineering officer and a native of Davenport, Iowa, today gave a graphic description of what went on below decks when the carrier was bombed and torpedoed in the battle of Midway Island.

"The first word we in the engine room got of the attack was a curt announcement over the ship's public address system that a wave of Jap planes was coming in toward us," Johnson said.

"Shortly after that, we felt the first torpedo hit far above us. The ship was swung at a decided angle to try and maneuver away from other torpedoes.

"We knew definitely that we were hit when we got orders to shift fuel and water to counteract the list caused by a series of torpedo hits.

"We had the ship on an even keel in a comparatively short time. As soon as her course straightened out again, we could tell that we weren't damaged so badly that we couldn't continue operations."

All through the battle, the white-haired officer said, the engine room stuck calmly to its duties and not until two hours after the attack were they forced on deck by fuel explosions.

SHAKESPEARE'S KIN, LADY MACBETH MEET

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—First Lieutenant William Shakespeare, now stationed at the McClellan Field Army Air Depot, and a third nephew of the immortal bard, isn't very happy over the fact.

At every army post he has been he has always had trouble with the guards. When challenged the questions and answers inevitably went something like this:

"Who goes there?"
"William Shakespeare."
"And I'm Lady MacBeth, too."

Whereupon the guard, likely as not would be after Shakespeare with his bayoneted rifle.

Concerning the bard, Lieut. Shakespeare declares, "I'm having a hard time living up to what he wrote and an equally hard time living down what he did."

Sparks caused by charge of static electricity constitute a fire and explosion hazard in a wide variety of industries, says the Department of Commerce.

Training Program Prepares For War Industry Jobs

Each course offered in New Castle by the Pennsylvania State college and Carnegie Tech through the facilities of Westminster college in their federally financed war training program prepares men and women for a specific technical job in a war industry.

Four of these evening courses to be offered at New Castle high school where registration for them and others will be held October 5, 6 and 7 from 7 to 10 p. m. are ceramic engineering, chemistry of engineering materials, foundations of engineering and safety engineering.

Ceramic engineering trains persons for war jobs as technicians, engineers, supervisors and inspectors in industries manufacturing fire clay refractories, refractory porcelain, electrical porcelain and white ware products, or other related products, and to upgrade persons now in such industries to positions as assistants in these fields.

This course requires a four-year high school course or its equivalent, including a year of chemistry, a year of physics and two years of mathematics through plane geometry. It includes instruction in mineralogy, occurrence, properties and uses of supervision with some safety responsibility, trains persons for jobs as safety engineers, safety maintenance workers or safety supervisors.

The course includes a study of the entire field of safety practices and related fields in industry.

There are approximately 300 syndicated comic strips appearing in newspapers in the United States.
